Dear Sarojini

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for coming to address our Grade 11 and 12 boys last Wednesday (23rd January 2013). It was very good for them to hear about the benefits of Academic Research before they embark on significant research tasks as part of their curriculum this year.

Your talk was extremely well received and I felt that you engaged the boys effectively with your interactive approach. While outlining the benefits of Academic Research, you also gave the boys considerable insight into the research process. There is no doubt that this will stand them in good stead now and in the future.

As I mentioned in my introduction, we are keen to explore and strengthen partnerships with Universities in order that we can learn how to better prepare our boys for tertiary study. Your visit is therefore greatly appreciated.

Kind regards

Paul de Wet
Director of Academics
